BUXCOMM.com
115 Luenburg Drive
Evington, VA 24550-1702

BUXCOMM.com is dedicated to delivering high quality products and components at low prices to the electronics user and hobbyist. Being a medium size company we understand the importance of fast and reliable service. With over 55 years of experience in the wholesale and retail business for both large and small businesses the employees of BUXCOMM know how to treat our customers, because we know our customers are our business.

The exciting world of electronics has found its way into everyone's everyday lives. Over the last few years simple designs within the communications world have gained so much interest that it's hard not to find a need for ideas and tutorials. To read more tutorials go to www.HAMradio101.net, or to www.HAMqrp.com and enjoy all the related information available now. With the ease nowadays to acquire an Amateur (HAM) Radio License you can understand how so many operators gain so much electronics experience in such a short time. Knowledge is power and it's never been easier to acquire that power than it is today. This is why BUXCOMM is where HAM Radio operators come to shop.

Thanks for choosing www.BUXCOMM.com !
